

AHS International Southwest Chapter presents...

Dr. Jayant Sirohi

Associate Professor Aerospace Engineering and Engineering Mechanics, at the University of Texas at Austin

“Performance and Loads of a Model Scale Coaxial Counter Rotating Rotor in Hover and Forward Flight”

Sept 22, 2016

Jayant Sirohi obtained his Ph.D. degree from the University of Maryland at College Park in 2002. He then worked as an Assistant Research Scientist in the Alfred Gessow Rotorcraft Center at the University of Maryland at College Park.

Before joining UT Austin in Fall 2008, Dr. Sirohi worked at Sikorsky Aircraft Corporation, where he was a Staff Engineer in the Advanced Concepts group. There he was involved with the conceptual design of next generation vertical take-off aircraft, as well as the performance enhancement of existing rotorcraft using advanced technologies. At UT Austin, Dr. Sirohi works on projects related to smart material sensors, experimental aerodynamics and structural dynamics, energy harvesting and rotary-wing aeroelasticity.
